President Retains Representatives of The Public and Main Conference is Ended.

Capital Group Plans to Issue
A Statement Setting Forth
Proposition.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, October 23.—Out of the wreck of the National Industrial Conference President Wilson today sought to build new machinery to bring about industrial peace in this country.

In a message to Chairman Lane he asks that the public representatives in the conference continue their work and make their report to him.

It is the hope of the President and other administration officials that the public delegates who were appointed by Mr. Wilson and who represent both capital and workers can formulate a program that will be acceptable to capital and labor.

After announcing he had received the message Chairman Lane declared the conference as originally constituted adjourned and immediately called the members of the public group into session as a new conference.

While Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, reiterated today that the labor delegates would not again meet with the employers' group unless a majority of the employers' representatives changed their attitude on collective bargaining, officials have not abandoned hope that labor would assent to principles which might be formulated by the public group acting alone.

After the conference adjourned Mr. Lane said it was probable the President would increase the membership of the public group so as to make that body more representative. Organized labor may be asked to participate through delegates to be named by the President.

Representatives of capital were called to meet and determine their future course. Some of the delegates said that since they had been "dismissed" there was nothing further to do, but others thought the group should issue a statement making clear its proposition.

GOMPERS TALKS

The public group later held an executive session and one member said the delegates showed a willingness to respond to the wishes of the President.

"We have withdrawn," said Mr. Gompers, "and until the conditions are changed of course we are withdrawn, and that ends it as far as we are concerned. We are not jumping jacks. We are not only men responsible as citizens, but responsible to millions of union workers."

Foreign Relations Committee
Adopts Ten Reservations.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, October 23.—Although nominally the Senate still was in the midst of its fight over peace treaty amendments today, the real subject of interest was the situation regarding reservations just brought to a sharp issue.

Having adopted ten revised reservations the Foreign Relations Committee planned to meet again late today or tomorrow to continue the work of formally approving a reservation program which republican leaders said had been pledged by a majority of the Senate.

The administration forces were planning to organize a fight of the revised amendments on the Senate floor.

Mr. Shea told the board during his hearing of the firemen's demands, according to testimony published today, that to members of his brotherhood was due an increase in wages, which, he said, "if I cannot get out of the conference, it may be necessary to use other means. But I am going to get it."

HOSPITAL DRIVE EXTENDED OVER ANOTHER DAY

Lack of Time for Field Work Makes Extension Necessary.

Campaigners Have Seen But Small Percent of the People.

With but a small percent of the $50,000 raised during the past two days because of the inactivity of the majority of the workers in the hospital campaign, at a meeting Wednesday evening it was decided to prolong the drive until Monday, October 27.

During the extra time a concentrated effort will be made to cover all parts of the county with a view to bringing before the people the fact that unless greater support is afforded the movement it is doomed to failure.

But few workers have been in the field during the first days of the campaign. Reports of the workers in Jefferson township and Jeffersonville were very favorable, but the majority of the campaigners were unable to offer their reports Wednesday evening.

In this city those active in the campaign were on the job Wednesday night and were unable to be present. It is thought, however, that the quota of the city will be raised within a day or two.

It is pointed out by the leaders in the drive that $50,000 is a very small amount to be raised in a county as large as Fayette but that the people do not seem cognizant of the fact that it will require the efforts and support of each individual to put the drive on its feet and raise the money.

Failure of the movement will mean that it will be dropped and the county must go on for years without hospital facilities except those which are available at the present time. Citizens of the county cannot afford to let the hospital projection fail.

Friday evening at 7:30 another report of the chairman of the townships will be made and each worker is expected to be on hand to inform the committee the extent of the money raised in their respective districts.

"MOTOR BUGGY" IS AMONG THE OLDEST

One of the oldest vehicles of the automobile family in Franklin county and older than any car now in use in this county makes regular trips through the state driven by the owner, Stucky, the "corn plaster man." The antiquated vehicle stopped in this city Wednesday night, and left Thursday for Wilmington.

Almost a dozen years old and of the buggy variety it was among the first made by the Schacht Company of Cincinnati. A two cylinder engine sends it over the road at a fair rate of speed.

The motor buggy, as it is called, has been driven steadily since it was purchased and no one has the slightest idea of how many miles it has traveled. And it still shows signs of continuing several years longer.

NOTABLE EVENT HELD BY WOMEN OF THE COUNTY

Victory Luncheon at Federated Club Rooms Wednesday an Unbounded Success.

President Ohio Woman's Suffrage Association Gives Inspiring Address.

The "Victory Luncheon," which celebrated the successful completion of the Fayette County enrollment for Woman's Suffrage, with a list of names highly gratifying to those in charge of the work, passed off with pronounced success at the Federated Club rooms Wednesday and marked a far advanced milestone in the progress of Equal Suffrage for women in town and county.

The interest in this subject which had been growing by leaps and bounds during the past season, when a chain of "Suffrage Teas" gave opportunity for large information, reached its climax in this luncheon, to which the presence of Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the Ohio Suffrage organization, gave the crowning inspiration. While Mrs. Upton possesses all the requisite knowledge and ability of the successful state officer, she is also delightfully "human," with a sense of humor that makes her a most enjoyable companion as well as an entertaining speaker, and privilege of having her for the big all day meeting which clamped the claim of Woman's Suffrage upon the interest of the local community, was very fully realized.

The Federated Club room held a splendidly representative gathering of Fayette County women, and when Mrs. Upton rose to make her address in the afternoon, the capacity of the big room was taxed.

Mrs. D. S. Craig, President of the Washington C. H. organization, had the day's meeting in charge, the town organization having taken over the work of securing the enrollment because at the time it was begun the county organization was not completed. The reports showed wonderful progress in both town and county and a total enrollment of our 3,000 women.

Shortly after the opening of the morning session, Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman, County Chairman, called the roll and brief talks were made by Miss Hulda McGrew, Chairman of the W. C. T. U. Suffrage Department; Mrs. Josephine Kerr, Chairman of Seventh Congressional District.

Excellent reports were made by the following chairmen, Mrs. A. C. McCoy, Concord township, Mrs. Victor Harper, Green; Mrs. W. H. Chamberlain, Jasper; Miss Roxie Corbitt, Jeffersonville; Mrs. C. G. Parrett, Madison; Mrs. E. C. Hughes, Marion; Mrs. Chas. Groff, Paint; Mrs. Ella Haines, Perry; Mrs. Frank E. Haines, Union; Mrs. A. S. Stenler, Wayne.

This work was comparatively new to the women of the county, but the reports showed that it only needed intelligent presentation to bring response. A thousand speeches and pamphlets were distributed during the enrollment.

Mrs. Upton took an informal part in the morning's discussions, and answered the question as to the possibility of the formation of a purely "Woman's Party," by saying that she anticipated no such organization, but, on the contrary that women would line up with the established party and would make the issue far more than the candidate.

The Luncheon.

Punctuating the noon adjournment with both gastronomic and social pleasure was the "Victory Luncheon." Its name was happily suggestive not only of the ended enrollment but also of triumphs in the culinary. The women of both country and town had been generous contributors and the menu represented every kind of home made delicacy, real country butter and thick cream, all kinds of sandwiches salads and plenty of fried chicken and so many wonderful home made cakes that there were some left to auction.

The immense dining room of the "Y" presented a radiant scene, with long tables, beautifully decorated with fall flowers and the officers' table at the head, graced with a large crystal basket of white roses.

Nearly a hundred women were seated and were enthusiastic over the luncheon and its admirable serving.

The affair was splendidly managed by the committee, Mrs. Jesse Persinger, Chairman, Mesdames James Ford, R. M. Hughey and Ray Maynard, with the able assistance of a number of Washington's young matrons.

At the close of the luncheon, Mrs. Craig rose to say that every woman in Fayette belongs to the Suffrage organization, but the urgent desire is to have all enrolled as sustaining members.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, County W. C. T. U. President, spoke briefly impressing the importance of every woman doing all she could within her home and community in the coming fight to keep Ohio dry. Mrs. Upton re-enforced her remarks by repeating the instruction figured out by Mr. Bryan—to vote the shortest word "No" on the short ballot and the longest word "yes" on the long ballot for the referendum if Ohio is to be kept a dry state.

A pleasurable hour of visiting with Mrs. Upton intervened before the calling to order by Mrs. Craig of the afternoon session.

Mrs. Upton's Address.

A large number of women not present at the luncheon came to hear Mrs. Upton's address.

Mrs. Craig, in opening the afternoon session, brought to the attention of her listeners one thing now before women as their work—that is the Fall election of members of the City Board of Education. Women can vote for them and the claim is justly made that they take little part in this election. It was urged that women consider well the candidates presented and ratify their choice at the polls.

Mrs. Upton held the gathering in close attention for an hour, she is a very easy rapid speaker, conversational in her style and enlivened the presentation of facts vitally important in the history of the movement with entertaining anecdote and amusing personal experiences.

"As I see the Woman's movement," said the State President, "it is finishing as started."

"I believe men and women were created equal, because this is true of the sexes in all nature. They started in together, equally endowed in the warm climate of the far East. With the tendency to 'go West' they migrated and in colder climates found necessary the covering of the tepee. Gradually while men went out the women stayed within caring for their families and lost out through lack of exercise and 'staying in by the fire.' If the past war did advance anything it was the awakening of the women throughout this great country, akin to the awakening to the evils of slavery in the days of the Civil War."

"The first Woman's Right's Convention—it was not Suffrage at that time—was in 1848. At that time married woman had no rights. If she lost a leg in an accident her husband had to bring the suit and he got the money—pretty hard on her. Most every fore father had two or more wives and each time the wife died the forefather came into possession of all she had. The claim is made that property laws were largely changed because thrifty old Dutch fathers were opposed to having all their savings go into the pockets of their sons-in-law."

Women have been claiming political rights since 1850. She went into politics after the war when politicians were willing to enfranchise the negro but not the intelligent white woman. Resentment rose with the realization that "every living thing can be enfranchised, the Red, the Black, the Yellow—everything but us."

Laughter followed Mrs. Upton's statement that half the time what people think they believe is only what their forefathers believed and advised an anti-toxin against some of those "miserable beliefs of our fore bears." "Fortunately some of our grand fathers were progressive reformers and the 'kick' they handed down to descendants is something I believe in." Mrs. Upton depicted vividly the scenes in Congress under her own observation when her father was a member of that body and the question of Wyoming's entrance as a State hinged upon the right of franchise given to the women who the men of that State felt had so greatly helped in building it up.

In discussing the part Ohio has played in this Woman's fight, Mrs. Upton said it would have been over long ago if the wets had not been more afraid of the woman's vote than of the prohibition fight. The wets have initiated the amendments which go to the people this Fall and unless the decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio as to whether National Amendments can be referred to the people is against such ruling Ohio women must wait to see whether 26 states ratify the Suffrage Amendment before they can cast the ballot, a right given to them by their own State Assembly.

Mrs. Upton closed her talk with congratulations to the Fayette County women upon their wonderful enrollment and splendid work and urged upon them the giving of careful and conscientious thought to the problems involved in woman's attaining of the ballot.

Classification—A Vital Issue

Last year the voters of Ohio by a majority of 32,000 adopted an amendment to the constitution of the state authorizing the legislature to classify property for taxation.

The supreme court declared the action a nullity, however, because, at the same election another constitutional amendment, construed to be contrary to the one authorizing classification, was adopted by a larger majority.

This year, practically, the same proposal is again submitted and on November 4th the people must declare, by their ballots, whether in the future the present constitutional provision, declaring that all property shall be returned for taxation, at its true value in money, shall prevail or whether the constitution shall be amended in such terms as to give to the legislature unlimited authority to classify and tax property as it, in its wisdom, pleases to do.

One argument advanced in favor of the classification proposal is that it will enable the taxing officials to raise more revenue and thus relieve the financial distress of the municipalities of the state and provide the money to maintain, on a proper basis, other vital departments of government.

That argument is sound. That claim as to the result of the adoption of the proposal is evidently true.

The second argument in favor of the classification proposal is that it will result in a larger return of intangible property for taxation.

There is neither proof nor sound theory offered in support of that claim. The advocates of the proposal assume that the legislature, given unlimited power and relieved of constitutional restrictions, will make the burden on intangible property so light that owners will voluntarily list it for taxation.

Experience does not sustain any such conclusion. The tax dodging owners of intangibles "save" all they possibly can. That's backed by the experiences of the past.

The legislature has full power now, under the constitution, to raise more revenue by taxation and full power, too, to bring the intangible property on to the tax lists if it had the courage to do so.

The tax rate limit law is the shoe that is pinching the tax receipts. It should be repealed or substantially amended so that needed revenue could be raised, but neither republican nor democratic politicians and office holders have the courage to lay hold of it.

The legislature has power now to put teeth in the present laws, providing for bringing property on to the tax lists. There's no constitutional restriction on that power, but it has lacked the courage to act.

Now facing a crisis, with the municipalities of the state practically bankrupt, and every present road, leading to more revenue by taxation blocked, the proposal to classify is urged as a way around present restrictions and a method which will enable the taxing authorities to place a heavier burden on tangible property—homes, farms, factories, workshops, live stock and, in fact, everything that can't be secreted. It is supported only by the groundless assertion that extending more privileges to the owners of intangible property will increase the return of that class of property.

We are opposed to classification for another reason. It provides for placing a heavier burden on one class of property holders than it does on others.

Classification of property for taxation is too big a ball to give the legislature to juggle with. It would provide an excellent method to raise unlimited amounts of money by placing the burden just where political expediency dictates.

There are plenty of ways out of the present crisis without removing the constitutional safeguard which has stood the test of a century. Let the legislature act if it has the courage, or face the consequences. We need more money—that's certain—but the conditions should be met bravely and fairly.

If the owners of tangible property must pay more taxes, and they must if the legislature doesn't put teeth in the tax listing laws, there should be no dodging by the legislature. It should choose either one horn or the other of the dilemma. Get the intangible property on the duplicate or increase the burden on the owner of tangible property. It seems unnecessary to go "around Robin Hood's barn," vesting the legislature with title to a political football, erect and maintain an elaborate and tremendously costly machine for listing property under the classification system and then come back, with the increased tax burden, to the same place.

The classification amendment proposal could be defeated, but it will not be unless the owners of tangible property wake up. The city vote will be heavy in its favor.

POETRY FOR TODAY

NATURE AT PLAY

Nature has thrown her tools away.
 Tired of fashioning fruit and seeds,
 All the long summer for mankind's needs,
 She has made up her mind now to play.

So she dressed her birches in gold one day,
 Rich crimson cloaks she threw over the oaks,
 And you never did see such gay-dressed folks,
 As the maples in scarlet array.

So radiant their gowns with colors bright,
 Madam Autumn at once invited them all
 To attend a gorgeous fancy ball,
 You never did see such a sight!

To all of them partners came in a trice,
 They danced with the magic lights of the sun,
 With the rousing winds, till day was done,
 Then their hostess gave them an ice.

After that, off to their homes they stepped,
 And rollicking dreams of Autumn's great ball
 Danced through the heads of them, large and small,
 As all the long winter they slept.

"GENERAL, HOLD OUR HORSES!"

SAYS ENGLAND MUST STAY BUSY TO HOLD PLACE

(By Associated Press.)

London, September 20.—(By Mail)—Sir Herbert Rowell, formerly president of the British Shipbuilding Employers' Federation, who has just returned from a four months' tour of the United States, Japan and China to investigate shipbuilding in those countries, says he is convinced that Great Britain can hold its own place in the struggle for marine supremacy only by exerting every ounce of its energy and brains.

"While in America," he says, "I felt my self in the midst of circumstances which conveyed conclusively to my mind a real potentiality both in shipbuilding and shipowning. I cannot dispel from my mind the possibility of serious rivalry in the future when I picture the transformation which had taken place in America.

"I was surprised to find that shipbuilding in China and Japan was so far advanced. When China awakens we shall have another serious rival to face.

"Japan," he says, "has not developed her shipbuilding industry in the same degree as the United States. Raw material is her greatest need and difficulty in shipbuilding and, in addition, the Japanese have not got commercial enterprise in the same degree as the Americans. Generally speaking, the Japanese will not risk their money as the Americans do."

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Mrs. George Waters delightfully entertained the members of the Wesley Chapel Mite Society, Wednesday afternoon. Twenty-two members answered to the roll call and several visitors were present.

A beautiful program was given including several Victrola selections, readings by Mrs. Edge and Mrs. Stuckey and Miss Laura DeWeese.

Assisting Mrs. Waters in entertaining were Mrs. Hyer, Householder, Nier, Harvey, Conner, Stone.

At the November meeting each member is requested to bring carpet rags, needle and thimble.

Refreshments and a social hour followed closing the meeting.

Friends of Mrs. Michael S. Creamer (nee Ruth Dennis) of Los Angeles, Cal., will learn with much interest of the honor conferred upon her in having been personally decorated by Queen Elizabeth, of Belgium, during the recent visit of Belgium's King and Queen in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Creamer was treasurer of the Los Angeles Belgium Relief Society, which sent over for Belgian Relief a thousand dollars a month and rendered immense aid to the stricken nation. In recognition of the active part Mrs. Creamer took in this work the Queen's own hands decorated her with the "Order of Queen Elizabeth."

Few weddings have attracted more interest than that of Wednesday evening when Miss Doris McClellan, the daughter of Mrs. Cora McClellan, of Columbus became the wife of Mr. Ray Laughlin in the ceremony being performed by the father of the bridegroom, Rev. J. G. Laughlin in the church of his pastorate in Bloomingburg. It recalled the scenes of days past when nothing was too good for the bridegroom and his blushing bride and when no one was excluded from the gathering or the festivities which followed.

Between three and four hundred interested friends of the young couple filled the little church and witnessed the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Joe Allemang played softly the Lohengrin and the Mendelssohn wedding marches.

The bride, an attractive girl of a decided blonde type, was lovely in a gown of white satin and white veil.

The bride-room is a young man of sterling qualities who holds a responsible position in Columbus. He is a graduate of Washington High School. Last December he was discharged from the military service.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin will make their future home in Columbus.

A host of friends, both in Bloomingburg and this city are extending best wishes as are also a wide circle of well wishers in the city of the bride's home.

The state convention was an unqualified success in every way, due mainly to the untiring energy and far-sightedness of Cleveland federated club women, than whom none more hospitable can be found in Ohio. This was made manifest at the informal opening of the convention Monday night, when Mrs. L. Bishop, president of the Cleveland federation, graciously welcomed the delegates and visitors and Mrs. C. S. Selover, of Cleveland, vice president at large, responded in behalf of the state federation. Mrs. James Neil Fleming, chairman of the program committee and general chairman of the silver anniversary meeting, received congratulations on ever hand for the wealth of material which the program carried. At the head of the fifty girl ushers and pages contributing a large share in making the convention the big success that it was, Mrs. Kenneth R. Taylor second vice president of the Cleveland federation, was always found directing that important phase of the convention.

One of the convention events which will long remain a pleasant memory was the past presidents' banquet Thursday evening at the Hollenden celebrating the silver anniversary of the federation. Mrs. Samuel B. Sneath of Tiffin, president of the federation from 1902 to 1904, made a charming toastmaster.

That the election of Mrs. William H. Sharp, of Columbus, as president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs meets with universal satisfaction among club women throughout the entire state goes without saying. She was the unanimous choice of the state convention which marked the silver anniversary of the federation in Ohio, the sessions being held in Cleveland, October 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Mrs. Sharp was not a private suddenly raised to the position of general—she had been a member of the official staff of Mrs. Prentice E. Root, of Toledo, the state president. She is a woman of tact. She brings to the presidency of the Ohio federation a personality that is strong yet gentle—a personality that will mean much to the federation.

LYCEUM TICKETS SELLING RAPIDLY

The Washington Lyceum Committee reports an almost unprecedented demand for tickets for the course of six exceptionally strong numbers, the opening attraction being Wednesday night of next week.

The committee decided that when the comfortable seating capacity of Grace Church is sold, that no more tickets will be offered.

With the sale barely started between 200 and 300 tickets have been disposed of. Many residents outside of Washington are buying the tickets.

FLYERS TAKING PASSENGERS UP FLY THREE DAYS

First Plane Arrives Wednesday Evening and Others Come Later.

Experts in Charge of Each Plane and Will Stay Here Several Days.

Another opportunity to see Washington and surrounding community from high in the air, and to undergo the thrills of an airplane flight is afforded local citizens by the Stinson Flyers, of Cleveland, who will be here several days to carry passengers, and who Thursday morning carried their first passengers for flights over the city.

The first plane landed on the Smith field east of the city, late Wednesday afternoon, and carried L. J. Taylor and Frank Goodale, both experts in their line. Later the two men "hopped" over to the Howat field west of the city and made arrangements to use it for landing purposes during their stay here.

During the late afternoon the men put on some of the best acrobatic aerial stunts ever witnessed over this city, dropping 3500 feet in a tail spin, looping the loop as few aviators do, and going through the falling leaf, banking, and doing the barrel roll in the most approved fashion.

Arrangements were made for a couple of additional planes to come to this city and give everyone who desires it an opportunity to enjoy a flight, the rate being $15 for straight flying or $25 with stunts.

Already quite a number of persons have booked for flights, and indications are that while here the aviators will do a thriving business.

Curtiss planes are used by the Stinson Flyers, and experts give them close attention to insure them being in good condition at all times, a truck with full repair equipment being used for keeping the planes in condition.

If business proves good, as there is every indication it will, the flyers will probably remain here over Saturday, and possibly Sunday, but those desiring flights are urged to book without delay.

P. AND D. BANK IS CHANGED TO A CORPORATION

On Tuesday and Wednesday, formal transfer was made of the Peoples and Drovers Bank, the old partnership, which for many years has been one of the county's strong financial institutions, to The Peoples and Drovers Bank and Trust Company, a corporation newly formed.

Increasing business and increasing demands of the public, the changes in the methods of conducting business, especially the banking business, determined the stockholders of the old bank to make the change to an incorporated bank assuring larger and more varied power in order to meet the public demand.

There has been no change made in the ownership of the bank, nor in the personnel of the officials or executive force, the change was effected without the least interruption to current business.

Deputy State Superintendent of Banks John Lang and his assistant came down from Columbus and directed the work of formal transfer. At the conclusion of his work Mr. Lang was unusually complimentary as to the condition of the bank, and the method under which its business was conducted. He also predicted a great future for the new bank as a factor in the business life of the community and as a profitable institution for the owners.

Mrs. Herbert Ure, of Columbus, will be the speaker of the day and a noon luncheon will be served in the basement dining room.

And everyone who gives toward the cause has a voice in the kind of memorial to be erected.

Mr. M. S. Daugherty was appointed Chairman in Fayette county and with the committee he is selecting, is directing the campaign to be made in Fayette county. He is confident that the response will be prompt and liberal.

No house to house canvass will be made, but to accommodate everyone subscriptions will be taken at all banks in the county, and Saturday in this city a score or more of young women will be at the banks and the various business houses to take subscriptions, and will place a tag on each contributor.

One dollar subscriptions will be taken, but those who care to give more are invited to do so in order that the fund expected of Fayette county may not fall below the amount allotted to the county.

Elsewhere in this issue, and for the next few issues will be found a blank form to fill out and mail or take to any bank in the county, the subscription desired for the Roosevelt memorial.

The Roosevelt Memorial association is seeking to raise a minimum of $5,000,000 of which amount Ohio is expected to furnish $500,000 and Fayette county $1680.

An appropriate memorial is planned in Washington, or a beautiful park at Oyster Bay to be preserved like Mt. Vernon, or a Roosevelt Foundation. While these are being considered, a vote will later be taken by all donors to the memorial, and the project receiving the largest number of votes will be carried out.

Certificates will be issued to all donors.

NEW FLOOR LAID IN ENGINE HOUSE

A block of cement floor is being laid in the fire engine house where the small truck is accustomed to stand. The large truck has been standing on the floor over the cellar and it was feared that it would break through the floor. A substantial foundation will be afforded by the large block of cement.

For Sale—One Chevrolet touring car, 1918 model, new paint and good tires, in excellent mechanical condition. Price $575. See John Brown, agent at the Hudson-Essex-Cole Agency, Automatic phone 23121, Bell 289.

FISHER SECURITIES QUICKLY TAKEN

The investing public, in short order, over-subscribed the Otis and Company offer of Fisher Body Ohio Company 8 per cent preferred stock. On Wednesday morning the securities offered were all taken and many late investors were disappointed.

These securities were the first public offer in this county by A. W. Duff, special representative of Otis and Company, and while he expresses regret that he could not fill more orders here, yet he is also pleased that the investors of the state gave such substantial proof of their belief in the issue offered.

BURLY INTRUDER FRIGHTENED AWAY AT POINT OF GUN

Shortly after seven o'clock Wednesday night an unknown prowler caused considerable of a flurry in Millwood and frightened several women by entering homes and prowling about other residences.

The last seen of the intruder was when he entered the home of Will White, and Mr. White seized a gun and gave chase, firing three shots at the fellow as he darted down an alley at break-neck speed.

SUGAR SHORTAGE VERY NOTICEABLE

With the sugar shortage becoming more acute all over the state the shortage in this city is becoming all the more noticeable and several of the largest grocers in town are selling but one pound to a customer.

The gravity of the situation is realized by the appeals coming to local grocers from the big cities, such as Dayton and Springfield, for even as low as five pounds of sugar. Although these orders are not being filled in the majority of cases one man in Dayton received fifty pounds from this city.

A let up in the shortage is expected to be noticeable in less than ten days with the coming upon the market of beet sugar and the shortage is expected to subside in about two weeks. The price will be 12 to 12½ cents per pound, according to present indications.

TRIAL STILL ON IN BAVARIA

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin, September 21. — (By Mail) — The trial of those accused of the murder of the Munich hostages continues in Bavaria. Many of the witnesses who number a hundred related fearful stories of the "brutalities" alleged to have been practiced by the Spartacists, Seidl, Schikhofer and others. Much of the testimony taken related to the robbing of the bodies of the hostages after they had been shot. Seidl, it was testified, obtained in this way 60,000 marks.

SMASH WINDOW AND GET AWAY WITH JEWELRY

During the late hours of Wednesday night someone used a chunk of cement about the size of a coconut in smashing the window of Bert Ellis' jewelry store on Main street, and made a clean escape with a number of watches, rinfand pins valued at $50 to $75.

There was every indication that as soon as the glass was smashed the thief thrust his hand through the eight inch hole in the glass, and, seizing what was nearest, darted down the alleyway which is within a few feet of the scene of the robbery.

The missing articles include two wrist watches, one gold filled watch and two or three other watches of cheaper design, as well as several set rings and a few pins.

So eager was the fellow to get away that he left eight or ten gold rings, a wrist watch and several other articles of value in the window.

It is supposed that the thief smashed the window some time between midnight and daylight, and that he first watched the patrolmen probably until they entered the police headquarters, then seized a chunk of cement from about the Savings Bank corner and hurried back to smash the window and make his getaway. The robbery was not discovered until some time later.

LARGE AUDIENCES GREET SPEAKERS IN DRY CAMPAIGN

Wednesday saw a corps of men heading the Dry Campaign open the program of the Dry Federation with a series of four meetings which were largely attended and enthusiastically received by the voters. Meetings were held at Jeffersonville, Waterloo, Yatesville and Milledgeville.

At Jeffersonville Hon. C. A. Reid and Hon. Reuben Rankin addressed a mass meeting. Henry Brownell, with Edwin Weaver formed the delegation sent to Waterloo, F. L. Fraser and C. E. Lloyd at Yatesville, and Major Roll G. Allen and Judge T. N. Craig at Milledgeville.

The speakers were met by interested audiences at each point and County Manager J. E. Mark states it appears that the voters are awake to the fact that the coming election is one of vital importance.

Thursday evening the speakers will appear at Good Hope with Major Roll G. Allen and Hon. C. A. Reid in charge. The Bloomington meeting has been postponed until Friday evening because of the opening number of the Lecture Course on Thursday. N. H. Limes and Rev. W. B. Rose at New Martinsburg, Dr. Carey E. Persinger and Rev. W. B. Gage at Jasper Mills will complete Thursday's program.

The Friday evening mass meeting at Madison Mills has been postponed until Saturday evening.

Follow up meetings will be held at several points in the county with the first Saturday evening at Jeffersonville.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

Classification of property for the purpose of assessing taxes is a serious question now up for discussion by our voters, both county and state wide.

There is no attempt on the part of those advocating classification in any way to disguise the fact that it is none other than a move to gather increased taxes to feed the political tape-worm with which we appear to be afflicted. The increased demand for taxes is defended and in no small degree justified by the claim that increased demands for public betterment warrants it, but all thought of the possible co-ordination of expenses with income appear to have passed to the discard.

The usual conditions existing during the war period, resulted in reckless excesses being indulged in without question and it is now sought to provide means to continue in the same heedless manner. Nothing illustrates more clearly the true American spirit, than the fact that the people, as of one mind, responded to the demands made on them cheerfully and for fear of delay refused to question the merit or method of any thing that was proposed, but times have changed and already we are receiving, in the way of declining prices, warning that we can no longer expect the same return as in the immediate past, this suggests the value of retrenchment and the serving of notice on our law makers that they in turn must endeavor to stay the wave of reckless expenditure that has recently prevailed.

Our people stand ready at all times to respond to reasonable demands that may be made upon them but they are inclined to ask a fair return for their dollars. Probably nothing at this time appeals to us stronger than good roads, for we all want them and are willing to pay the price, but fully 25 per cent of the money paid as road taxes never gets on the road. $17,000,000 are paid annually by the people of Ohio, 25 per cent approximately never reaches the roads the first item being the pay of five high salaried men to do the work of one as represented by the combined efforts of a State Highway Commissioner and four members of a State Highway (so called) Advisory Board. This continues on down through the different processes and accounts for no small part of the

FLY IS DAMAGING EARLY SOWN WHEAT

Hessian fly has made its appearance here and is rapidly damaging the early sown wheat.

Observations made near Ashville by a representative of the college of agriculture, Ohio State university show that wheat sowed during the week of September 22 to 27 is already badly damaged and the plants are feeding many fly "maggots." Twenty-six of these fly larvae were found attached to one plant when the leaves were stripped down to the root.

Fields in the neighborhood sowed during that week now have 75 to 85 per cent of the plants infested. Wheat sown on and after September 29, is very little damaged. Counts made Monday of this week show that an occasional plant in such fields contained but a single larva of the fly. —Circleville Herald.

BANTERER BEATEN BY BILL BROOKS

Bill Brooks, local wrestler who has made quite a name for himself in the grappling game, had easy sailing at Wilmington Wednesday night when he grappled with a carnival wrestler who a taking on all comers at the Fall Festival.

The carnival grappler offered a sum of money for any man to stay with him five minutes. Brooks accepted the offer and raked in the cash. A second challenge was made for seven minutes and again Bill went on the mat and was an easy winner.

amount that never gets on the roads. This condition is the result of the acquiescence of the Legislature, which body is now asking that they be allowed by law to classify property that they may find means to finance their innumerable follies. We grant the necessity of increased funds if we are to continue our march of progress, but we are within our rights when we demand that first we come back to rational methods of business, to stop the leaks and then find how much is really needed to be provided for legitimate uses.

Classification is not being advocated by others than those who hope to profit by its promised increased taxes and it would appear best to continue to struggle with our more or less faulty methods rather than be drawn to things we know not of. Vote no on classification rather than take a chance.
